New Website for the Adventist Church for both the North & South Island A new website www.adventist.org.nz is now online. Four years ago leaders from the South & North NZ Conferences spent a day visioning what a synchronised Adventist online presence would look like right across the North & South Islands. After months of hard work, amplified by the closure of the NetAdventist website, we are pleased to announce that the dream is alive and online, thanks to the hard work of Lisa Kask & Alex Green.
